The City of Truth or Consequences and Sierra County are known for their climate and year 'round recreational areas. For years, Sierra County has laid claim to some of the most beautiful mountain and desert terrain in New Mexico. Elephant Butte Lake and Caballo Lake, the two largest lakes in the state, teem with activity. Water sports like powerboating, sailing, canoeing, fishing, windsurfing, water-skiing and personal watercraft as well as birding, camping and hiking are popular attractions. That in itself would be enough to make Sierra County an outdoor wonderland, but then add the fact that all this is nestled along the banks of the Rio Grande River, and minutes from the Gila National Forest...with great Food, Hospitality, unique Hot Mineral Springs and interesting shops, history, people and historic ghost towns...where else would you go for a vacation that HAS IT ALL!
